PORTFOLIO PROFILE

PROCESS

U.S. Market ETF: We select a diversified mix of sector-based exposure to the U.S. equity markets. Individual ETFs and allocation percentages are subject to change based on market cycles.

U.S. Dividend ETF: ETFs are selected based on the combination of capital appreciation and the potential for income. The focus is on specific sector ETFs that hold individual securities which have a history of paying a higher dividend yield than the average S&P 500 security.

U.S. Growth ETF: Focus is on capital appreciation through the selection of ETFs that invests in specific market sectors that are expected to provide strong long-term performance.

WILDERMUTH ASSET MANAGEMENT U.S. ETF PORTFOLIOS

The performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance is not indicative of future results, and there can be no assurance, and clients should not assume, that future performance of any Wildermuth Asset Management managed portfolios will be comparable to their past performance. Investment returns and principal value will fluctuate, so that investors' shares, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Investing involves risk including possible loss of principal. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data cited.

The composite includes taxable and nontaxable, discretionary and nondiscretionary portfolios within wrapped or unwrapped accounts. The performance information presented has not been audited or verified by an independent accounting firm. The composite figures illustrated represent the returns only for the time periods indicated and reflect the reinvestment of dividends, interest and capital gains. Performance is time-weighted total return calculated quarterly. Performance data is shown both gross as well as net of all transaction, management, and custodial fees. The advisory fees used in the calculations are equal to the highest advisory fee charged to any client subscribing to the portfolios. From 2002 through first quarter 2006, the maximum fees possible were 1.5% annually, redeemed 0.375% quarterly, in advance, based on asset value as measured at the previous quarter-end. From second quarter 2006 through 2012, maximum fees possible were 1.95% annually, redeemed 0.488% quarterly, in advance, based upon asset value as measured at the previous quarter-end. From second quarter 2012, maximum fees possible were 2.70% annually, redeemed 0.675% quarterly, in advance, based upon asset value as measured at the previous quarter-end. Actual advisory fees varied among clients in the Wildermuth Asset Management. Wildermuth Asset Management's fee schedules are available in Form ADV, Part 2 or upon request.

Wildermuth Asset Management customizes some portfolios for clients according to various characteristics such as tax sensitivity, tax requirements, legacy position inclusion, stock ownership restrictions, sector restrictions, and stock substitutions. Furthermore, we may alter or customize the construction, implementation and ongoing holdings of portfolios depending upon unique or changing client, economic, investment vehicle or market circumstances.

Benchmarks: The Russell 3000 Index is a market-capitalization-weighted equity index maintained by FTSE Russell that provides exposure to the entire U.S. stock market. The index tracks the performance of the 3,000 largest U.S.-traded stocks which represent about 98% of all U.S. incorporated equity securities. The Russell 3000 Value Index is a market-capitalization weighted equity index maintained by the Russell Investment Group and based on the Russell 3000 Index, which measures how U.S. stocks in the equity value segment perform by including only value stocks. The Russell 3000 Growth Index is a market capitalization-weighted index based on the Russell 3000 index. The Russell 3000 Growth Index includes companies that display signs of above-average growth. The index is used to provide a gauge of the performance of growth stocks in the United States.

Actual client results are also impacted by start and end dates, withdrawals, additional deposits, and any charges imposed by the investment custodian, which may materially affect client performance returns. In addition, Unified Managed Accounts (UMA) are not traded by Wildermuth Asset Management, which may result in differences in trading style, efficiency, and timing. Therefore, your return may be materially different from that of other Wildermuth Asset Management clients with the same investment objective and any comparative benchmark provided.

Asset allocation and diversification strategies do not protect against market risk or loss of principal. Neither do they assure a profit nor do they protect against losses in declining markets. Investments in managed portfolios have additional management fees and expose the investor to the risks inherent within the portfolio and the specific risks of the underlying securities directly proportionate to their allocation in the portfolio. Investing involves risk, including the loss of principal. Investment returns, particularly over shorter time periods, are highly dependent on trends in the various investment markets. Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of managed portfolios carefully before investing. There is no assurance that any investment or strategy will achieve its investment objective, and the information provided is not intended to be a complete analysis of every material fact respecting any strategy. An investor's actual results may have varied.
